

Dr. Hopkins is originally from Marble Falls, TX, Dr. Christopher Hopkins specializes in hand, wrist, and upper extremities for Arlington Orthopedic Associates. After graduating from The University of Texas at Austin in June of 2008, he then received his Doctor of Medicine at University of Texas Medical Branch in May of 2012.

Dr. Hopkins completed his residency at The Campbell Clinic in Memphis, Tennessee in June of 2017 and then became a Fellow at Tufts Medical Center and New England Baptist Hospital in July of 2017.

In addition to his medical accomplishments, Dr. Hopkins is also an avid runner and enjoys participating in marathons. He is recently engaged and is looking forward to a wedding in Fort Worth next Fall. In his free time, he enjoys traveling with his fiancé, reading, weight training and playing tennis.

When asked about his perfect day, Dr. Hopkins replied, "Going for a long run in the morning and then hanging out at the lake with my fiancé and family."